

Suzuki built the cube tent, it was 2.7m x 3.6m x 2.2m. Furudate drew the line on the wall of inside of the tent. Lighting was not set inside of the tent. Participants had to hold a penlight, and put the light from a penlight on the wall. Participants could not simultaneously see the all drawings inside a tent. They were able to see the drawing only in the range of the light of a penlight. It was like a tomb or a cave.
